2004 DIVIDEND RATES (Alliant vs. National Average)

Tom Fraser

AlliantSM Credit Union enjoyed an extremely successful 2004, as strategic and organizational changes initiated in 2003 were realized. We began the year with a new brand identity to support membership diversification and growth...and ended the year reporting impressive financial results thanks to the continued support of our members utilizing our products and services.

2004: for Alliant members

Alliant reinforced its tradition of exceptional value for members by officially instituting an “everyday great rate” philosophy, our commitment to Alliant members that our loan rates will be below industry average. Members were provided the unique opportunity to borrow at rates substantially below those at most other credit unions, averaging around 1% less on auto loans, .25-.75% less on mortgages (and far less than banks and other financial institutions). Alliant enhanced credit card options for our members by offering the new Alliant Platinum Rewards VISA® program. Thanks to this overall member focus, loan growth was outstandingly strong, with total loans increasing 12.9% from 2003.

Alliant members also continued to enjoy exceptional returns on their savings. While competitive savings rates remained largely unchanged, Alliant raised its savings dividend twice during the year, by a total of .5%. By the end of the fourth quarter, Alliant’s annual savings dividend rate was 2.75% – compounded annual percentage yield of 2.78% APY to members who maintained an average daily balance of $100 or more.

Alliant’s conversion and enhancement of our computer system platform – successfully completed in October – required tremendous attention and energy and encompassed virtually every credit union system and operation, including Self Service Telephone, our automated phone system service, and SkyBranch®, our online banking service. The overall benefit of this computer system enhancement is that it is built for growth, added functionality and higher reliability so Alliant can quickly satisfy our members’ current needs and successfully meet their future needs, too.

2004: for Alliant employees

Alliant made significant progress in enhancing employee engagement, a key factor in individual and organizational effectiveness and enhancing member service. Average engagement scores, as measured by the results of our annual Gallup Q¹² Engagement Survey, placed Alliant in the 60th percentile of financial services companies. It is our aim to develop and empower our staff, so we can continue to earn the uncompromised trust of our members.

2004: for the community

In 2004 Alliant established a civic affairs program to extend a charitable arm directly to the community via participation and support of civic/social causes important to Alliant and its members. We adopted financial literacy as our principal philanthropic focus and entered into a major partnership with Operation Hope, Inc., to deliver financial instruction to youth. Through partnerships like these and volunteerism in line with Alliant’s long-standing service mission, we make an impact, give back to our community and “put a face” on Alliant – and our members – as good corporate citizens.

In summary, 2004 was a year of exceptional accomplishment for Alliant Credit Union. Landmark growth. Continued strength and stability. Systems and staff ready for the future. And, most importantly, high returns to members... to whom our success belongs.

financial performance

AlliantSM Credit Union's focus on our members is evident in the review of our 2004 financial performance. During the past year, we remained committed to the safety and security of members' funds while continuing to provide high value through high-yield savings dividends and low loan rates.

Alliant strategically focused on expanding membership and positioning our loan pricing to enhance value to our borrowing members. We attained excellent results as both number of members and number of loans in the portfolio grew significantly.

Some of the results included: over 15,000 new members, an increase in net assets of $117 million, growth in deposits by almost $90 million, and growth in total reserves by $33.1 million or 6.3% higher than at December 31, 2003. By year-end, Alliant proudly served 178,044 primary members. Total income of $161 million was generated, enabling us to distribute over $90 million in dividends to our members. The percent of net income before dividend distributed to members increased to 73.5% in 2004 as compared to 65.8% in 2003.

Loan growth during 2004 was strong with loan balances at December 31, 2004 exceeding $1.9 billion. The most notable increases were in first mortgages which grew by $92 million or 7.9% and in consumer loans which increased $68.7 million or 20.6%. The majority of the growth in the consumer loan portfolio was originated through the new indirect vehicle lending program. Losses on our loan portfolio declined by 5% and delinquencies remained steady even with the increase in loan balances.

In 2004, growth in net assets was 2.8% as compared to December 31, 2003. Our capital reserves now exceed $560 million with a 12.9% capital/net asset ratio. The impressive amount of reserves is a key indication of financial strength.

financial performance

The stabilization of market rates during the first half of 2004 and modest rate increases during the second half of the year slowed the decline in investment and loan portfolio yields making total income for 2004 comparable to 2003. Alliant paid a premium dividend throughout the year, averaging more than 1.5% higher than comparable savings products.

In summary, AlliantSM Credit Union sustained its long history of strong financial performance in 2004. The financial results were consistent with our strategic focus and we concluded the year in a position of operational and financial strength. Alliant's high quality asset base, strong capital reserve position, and focus on being a cost efficient provider make us well positioned to meet the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead in the coming years.

Basis of Presentation: Certain prior period data has been reclassified to conform to current period presentation.

Net Assets – Net assets represent total assets less securities temporarily loaned to brokers and non-member deposits borrowed from the State of Illinois. The Statement of Financial Condition is represented net of these transactions as they are included in both total assets and total liabilities in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.

Investments – As of December 31, 2004, 60.6% of Alliant's total portfolio was invested in U.S. Treasury and U.S. Agency and Sponsored Agency securities with another 6.4% invested in cash equivalent securities. The remaining 33% of the portfolio was invested in financial company and corporate Credit Union liabilities. Our entire investment portfolio was designated as available for sale prior to maturity as of December 31, 2004. The value of those securities is presented on the Statement of Financial Condition at current market value, which is $3,842,000 less than book value.

Securities Loaned to Brokers – Alliant participates in a securities lending agreement, which permits the lending of securities to a broker for a designated period of time to generate arbitrage income. As of December 31, 2004, securities with a par value of $31,825,000 were committed to securities lending.

Reverse Repurchase Agreement – Alliant also participates in a reverse repurchase agreement in which securities are pledged in exchange for cash, which is then reinvested to generate arbitrage income. As of December 31, 2004, securities in the amount of $73,350,000 were committed for this purpose.

Total Loans – Total loans represent loans to members, loan participations purchased, and loans in process of liquidation.

Loans – Loans to members represent principal balances remaining unpaid on consumer, credit card and mortgage loans.

Loan Participations Purchased – Loan Participations Purchased represent homo-genous pools of individual loans purchased from other credit unions. These purchases allow us to reinvest maturity proceeds of lower yielding investment securities into higher yielding products with similar risk characteristics. At December 31, 2004, loan participations outstanding totaled $26,920,000.

Lines of Credit – Unused commitments on lines of credit in mortgages, credit cards and unsecured share draft loans totaled $132,849,000, $270,029,000 and $24,313,000, respectively, as of December 31, 2004. These commitments are not reflected in the financial statements.

Allowance for Loan Loss – The Allowance represents an amount estimated by management to be sufficient to cover potential losses from loans currently outstanding. Loan losses deemed uncollectible are charged to this account upon approval of the Board of Directors. As of December, 31, 2004, the Allowance totaled $8,911,000.

Accrued Expenses and Liabilities – Alliant obligations with respect to the securities loaned to broker totaled $105,175,000 as of December 31, 2004. The balance of $26,045,000 represents other short term liabilities.

Share Insurance Deposit – This deposit is equal to 1.0% of member shares insured by the National Credit Union Administration, a Federal agency of the U.S. government. As of December 31, 2004, the deposit totaled $29,983,000.

Reserves and Undivided Earnings – State regulations prescribe that a Statutory Regular Reserve for possible loan losses be maintained at an amount equal to 6.0% of the outstanding loan and risk asset balances. This reserve is accumulated in addition to the Allowance for Possible Loan Losses and totaled $108,946,000 at December 31, 2004 and $106,717,000 at December 31, 2003. Appropriations to the reserve are made by transfers from undivided earnings. Capital reserves represent a general reserve for unforeseen contingencies and totaled $444,745,000 and $414,350,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. Undivided earnings include net unrealized (losses)/gains on investments available for sale, which were ($3,842,000) and $1,910,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Taxation – A credit union subject to the Illinois Credit Union Act is defined as a cooperative society and is exempt from payment of Federal Income Tax on income derived from its exempt purpose under provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, Section 501(c)(14).

Audited Report – The financial information provided in this annual report, although believed to be accurate, is unaudited as of December 31, 2004. Audited financial statements prepared by Ernest & Young LLP are available from Alliant for the year ended June 30, 2004.
